A sea of red as Husker fans enter Lincoln for the game. The Southern Mississippi game totaled 9,000 city parking spaces which included both on and off street parking.

Perry Tunks and Matt Goeken wait for fans to come before the Western Illinois vs. Nebraska game.

Brian Kern, regional manager for Republic Parking System, passes out doughnuts to staff working the Western Illinois game.

ePay Husker Parking

Finally, game day parking made easy. That was the attitude of many Husker fans who chose to prepay for their parking at parkitdowntown.org. By going to this website you can purchase a parking space for a single game or all six of the home games. It's a great way to reduce the stress of parking during a big event and this online option seems to be catching on. For the first two Husker games four of the nine city parking garages sold out including: Haymarket Garage, Iron Horse Lot, Market Place Garage and Que Place Garage. The garages closer sell out quickly so make sure to reserve your parking place today.

NEW KID IN TOWN:

INTERVIEW WITH
KATHERINE
DONNELLY

"I'm a proactive person and I make things more efficient. I take a problem and look for the best way to answer it."

*Have you noticed the new colors in town?
Don't worry no one's challenging the Huskers.*

Effective September 1, 2004 Republic Parking Services took over management of Lincoln's parking garages, a contract held prior by Ampco System Parking. Along with the red and blue uniforms the change brought with it a new general manager, Katherine Donnelly.

Donnelly has worked in parking services for eight years. She began her career with Central Parking Services, parking cars and eventually moved her way up to manager. Five years ago she started working for Republic Parking System in Denver and then transferred to Utah, where she was general manager for two years. When the position in Lincoln opened she was excited to face a new challenge.

Donnelly looks forward to serving the parking needs of Lincolniters and said her main goals are to meet capacity needs and utilize garages to meet the demands of the city. She enjoys the job because it is different every day and gives her the chance to improve the current system.

"I'm a proactive person and I make things more efficient. I take a problem and look for the best way to answer it," Donnelly said.

One way Republic is working to enhance parking is by conducting a 90-day study addressing utilization of the garages, maintenance and the fees charged at each location. After the study is complete plans to make changes will be developed.

There are many behind the scenes aspects of parking the public does not see and Donnelly says that's the way it should be. She wants customers to have a positive, hassle free experience each time they enter a parking garage. This is why she is focusing on providing the public with clean facilities, friendly cashiers and accessible parking.

"I want to run City of Lincoln parking garages with minimum impact on customers and I hope the main thing people do notice is more attention to

WE'RE LISTENING

Addressing your concerns

Q: I ordered several parking passes online at the Que Place Garage, however I was unable to print the "parking page" to document my pass. Can you help me generate that page please?

A: Please create a "MyInterLinc" account from the City's home web page and notify the Parking office of your request by email or phone. Once an account is created we can then manually attach your payment(s) to your account. You may then re-enter the site and print your receipts. The "MyInterLinc" account allows customers to review all web payments to the City, including animal licensing, parking tickets, property tax, criminal history checks, and water and sewer bills. Any further questions, please feel free to call the City Parking Office 402.441.6472.

Q: Why can't I park in my regular garage on game days even though I have a monthly parking pass?

A: Allotment is done at each facility and is on a first come, first serve basis. Because of the volume of traffic incurred during Nebraska home games, we are unable to guarantee parking in a specific garage, as stated in your monthly parking contract. We do our best to accommodate our monthly parkers and will direct you to another location where parking is available.
